Office for South-South Cooperation

Global Alliance

Across the Global South, countries are developing practical, innovative solutions to shared development challenges.

Convened by the United Nations Office for South-South Cooperation (UNOSSC), the Global Alliance for South-South and Triangular Cooperation is a voluntary, UN-facilitated platform that connects country priorities with expertise, partnerships and catalytic support — helping turn shared experience into real-world solutions.

The Alliance is taking South-South and triangular cooperation to the next level. It brings together governments, the United Nations system and a wide range of partners to work differently — and work together — to accelerate progress toward the Sustainable Development Goals.

WHY THE ALLIANCE MATTERS

The challenge is not a lack of solutions.

It is the ability to connect them, adapt them and scale them.

Across regions, countries are tackling similar issues — from climate resilience to digital transformation, from food systems to social protection.

The Alliance provides a trusted space to bring these experiences together, enabling partners to:

- Share development priorities and needs
- Identify solutions that already work
- Build partnerships across regions and sectors
- Scale what delivers results

It helps transform knowledge into action — and action into impact.
